LOT 219 - Arizona Petrified Wood Bookends

Description

Pair of bookends made of polished Arizona petrified wood. Each features a natural stone coloration in shades of blue, gray, and brown with amber tones. The label on one indicates the wood's origin and transformation by silica into gem-like stone about 160 million years ago. Each piece measures approximately 4 inches in height. Visible natural cracks and stone patterns present. Excellent for functional or decorative purposes. Location: 3rd Floor
